

TABLESCAPE

New York interior designer Todd Klein makes lunch an occasion, not just another meal.

Produced by
ABBY TABAK
Interview by
LILITH DORKO
Photograph by
QUENTIN BACON

TODD KLEIN

“Think of red as a bright neutral—so many colors look good with it. And it really enlivens the way people feel.”

To create the feeling of a canopy, Klein hung paper lanterns above the table. Lauren by Ralph Lauren Red Pagoda dinnerware, $70 for five-piece place setting: lordandtaylor.com. Multi-colored Battuto vases, $846 each: segusoviro.com. Six-inch paper lanterns, $2.30 each: lunabazaar.com. For additional accessories, go to housebeautiful.com/resources.

More Vibrant Reds

CUP ↑

Pot a few of these cute cups with flowers and scatter them around the table. Red Ceramic Cup, 3" H, $3.50 each. PEARL RIVER MART: pearlriver.com.

NAPKIN ↑

A subtle touch of shimmer for the table. Reversible Linen Wave Napkin, in Red/Gold, $43. DRANSFIELD & ROSS: dransfieldandross.biz.

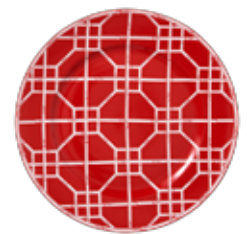

PLATE ↑

A little chinoiserie packs a big punch. Love this fretwork pattern. Red Pagoda Service Plate, 12" DIA, $67. LAUREN BY RALPH LAUREN: belk.com.

CANDLESTICKS ↑

Even without the candles, they glow! Ruby Glass Candlesticks, 11" H, $50 a pair. HOME, JAMES!: homejameseasthampton.com.